LAKE VIEW HOUSE.

Charles Godfrey's Popular Resort at the Lake.

Nothing has been done at Reed's lake this year that has added more to the general pleasure and enjoyment of the city's pleasure ground than the improvements made in and about the pleasant Lake View House, owned by Charles Godfrey. The house has been newly decorated inside and outside and verandas have been added for the comfort and rest of guests. A spacious family beer hall has been sumptuously fitted up in the second story of the building, opening through large doors onto the wide verandas which extend round the building. This pleasant resort affords the finest view of the lake obtainable, is within easy reach of the car system and sound of the orchestra, and is the coolest location in the region of Reed's lake.

Charles Godfrey, its genial proprietor, is one of the most accommodating of hosts, and asks nothing in return for the privileges of his house, but gentlemanly conduct and a reasonable remuneration. During his management of the house it has enjoyed an enviable reputation and an increasing patronage.

KENT STONE COMPANY.

A Progressive Institution Which Is Doing a Large Business.

The matter of an adequate supply of first class building stone is one of the greatest importance to architects and builders, particularly at the present season of the year. With the advance and improvement in farms and the removal of "hard-heads" from the surface a growing demand for a stone to take their place is being felt on all sides. Happily this city is provided with a stone of peculiar value for this purpose and one which is obtainable at very reasonable rates. The product in mind is that of the Kent Stone company, the stone being taken from the quarries of the firm, on North Front street. Owing to the peculiar conformation of the rock layers blocks are readily obtained of dimensions convenient for building walls, piers and columns. The rock is delivered by the company to all parts of the city, and it is finding a place in nearly all the prominent buildings being erected in the city. The Grandville avenue school and the Michigan Trust building use large quantities of the rock. The refuse from the quarries is supplied for street ballasting and for other purposes.

The company is agent for the Ionian sandstone and for the Waverly sandstone of Holland. The latter is among the best building products in the northern states.

JUMP INTO THE LAKE.

Manhattan Beach Will Afford a Polite Opportunity.

Can you think of anything more refreshing than sultry days than to provide yourself with a proper bathing habit and proceed to plunge into the cool and refreshing billows of Reed's lake? If you can not, why not indulge your fancy. You are going through life for the last time. Why not enjoy some of the sweet things of the imagination? Here is an exhilarating and sanitary amusement within the reach of all. The character of this popular resort has always been maintained at such a standard that the place has been patronized by the first families of the city. This year a special effort has been made by its genial proprietor, Mr. Reed, to make Manhattan more attractive than ever. To this end the place has been provided with a large number of extra bathing rooms and a large addition to the stock of costumes has been made. Besides this the appliances of the place have been increased and improved, so that today this popular resort, right here at home, offers all the advantages for bathing enjoyed by the best equipped bathing beaches along inland waters.
